I would prefer the broadest possibleLocal Access, for all the forms of communication. The public is wise enough to choose which will prosper or fail by giving attention to those which met their needs.